COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The annual meeting of the Maine Municipal Association, of which Bethel is a member, was held at the Eastland Hotel in Bethel on Nov. 4, 5, and 6. Sessions were held for Planners, Assessors, Collectors, Police Chiefs, Managers, Clerks, and Public Works Officials.

One of the sessions covered a new subject, the preservation of municipal records. Until this year there was no law covering the disposition of old municipal papers and records. The last session of the Legislature passed a law establishing the retention and disposition of records. Certain periods are designated as to how long each record will be retained. At the end of the statutory period the law provides the records be microfilmed or destroyed, depending on their permanent value. For example, cancelled checks may be destroyed after six years, excise tax records three years. Town meeting records retained twenty years then microfilmed. If the town does not wish to microfilm records they must be carefully preserved. Bethel is indeed fortunate to have a vault for the preservation of important record books. It will be a number of years before the vault reaches an overcrowded condition that will warrant microfilming records.

Another discussion concerned capital improvement, equipment, and reserve accounts. These accounts can be established by vote of town for some future project or purchase of equipment. Monies appropriated for these accounts must be invested to draw interest until such time as the town votes that they be withdrawn to be applied towards a project or purchase of equipment which has been approved by the voters.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

THE BETHEL HEALTH COUNCIL GRATEFUL

The Bethel Health and Service Council is very appreciative for the response to its appeal for voluntary labor to help in the construction of a new home for one of our deserving families who lost their home and possessions by fire last summer. Over thirty men gave generously of their week end time and skill and so made this new home possible before winter.

The Council is also grateful for the clothing contributed this fall. This has made it possible to provide much needed items to some nineteen families and more specifically to 63 children. Too often we have not had the size or item needed but such as we have had has been much appreciated by the recipients. With the rapid approach of winter the need for blankets and winter clothing is growing. Should anyone have such items they would care to contribute they may be certain that each such article will be put to instant and thankful use.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bean Sr. celebrated their 49th wedding anniversary Monday evening with a family gathering at their home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Archie Young Jr., Ricky and Kathy; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bean, Jr.; Donna Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chapin, Nancy, Cindy, and Mary Ann; Shirley Bates, and the honored guests.

SUNDAY RIVER SKIWAY TO HOLD PRICE LINE

Sunday River Skiway, outstanding new ski area in Bethel, is determined to hold the reins on the runaway cost of living and has promised to provide top drawer skiing for New England families at prices they can afford. Prices announced this week include weekday tickets at $3.50 and a weekend and holiday rate of $4.00, with half day rates of $2.00 and $2.50. Many skiers will wish to take advantage of the season rates offered by the new area. Barker Mountain, site of the Skiway, with its 140 inch annual snowfall and attendant long season from December through April makes the family season rate of $125 and individual season rate of $50 look most attractive to the budget minded skier. A 10% discount is offered to those purchasing season tickets before December 15. Youngsters under 14 years of age may ski at just half the above rates.

Maine's third major ski area comes of age this year with promise of exciting and varied terrain for skiers from novice to expert. Work on the lodge and slopes is nearing completion, and present plans call for a mid-December opening.

GOULD ACADEMY

National Merit Scholarship Awards
Five seniors at Gould Academy have been cited for outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualification Test (NMQT) last spring. Each has received a formal "Letter of Commendation" from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Headmaster Edmond J. Vachon announced Monday, Nov. 16, that the seniors so honored are: Donald M. Christie, Bethel; Barbara Mundt, Bethel; Caroline Seavey, Blue Hill; Anne C. Brown, Bethel; and Sally S. Hancock, Casco.

Semifinalists and Commended students receive many scholarships apart from the Merit Program. NMSC estimates that more than nine million dollars in scholarships for the freshman year alone will be awarded these students, in addition to the regular Merit awards.

NEW BOOKS AT THE BETHEL LIBRARY

Adult:

We now have two copies of "The History of Bethel," so one copy may now leave the library for a two week period.

"The Merry Wives of Massachussetta" by James R. Parker. A beguiling novel which is filled with romance and wonderful fun.

"Metropolitan Seminars in Art," by Canada. Portfolio 6. "Advice and Consent," by Allen Drury. This is far more than a timely, eye-witness chronicle of our American leaders today.

"Light in the Jungle," by Lay B. Halliwell. The thirty years' mission of Jessie and Leo Halliwell along the Amazon.

"Station Wagon in Spain," by Francis Parkinson Keyes. Is the gay, romantic and thrilling story of a serious young man, unresponsive to feminine wiles and hampered by slender means, who is suddenly and surprisingly transformed into a daring rover, an amateur detective and an impetuous suitor.

Young People:

"An Edge of the Forest," by Agnes Smith. The charming, thoughtful story of a mother, less little black lamb, adopted by a leopardess.

"Voyagers West," by Margaret A. Johnson.

"Saturday Night," by Marjorie Holmes. This follows a typically American girl through the experiences of her first love.

"Scavengers in Space," by Alan Nourse. Eighteen-year-old twins battle an unscrupulous industrial organization on Mars to keep outer space under UN control, make important archaeological discovery on an isolated asteroid.

Juniors:

"Daniel Boone," by Augusta Stevenson.

"Red Eagle," by Shannon Garat. The story of a young Sioux Indian's overcoming a physical handicap and by courage and bravery earning his tribe's respect.

"Elephant Cargo," by Winifred G. Hammond. During an animal-collecting trip in Thailand, Van's father lets him buy Star, a baby elephant, this tells of his homeward trip.

"Which Witch," by Robert Lanson. One witch is rich, the other has an itch, in this bewitching bit of nonsense which will keep youngsters purring long after the story's explosive climax.

Easy:

"Hurrah for Moxie," by Peggy Gulick and Elizabeth Breassey.

"Flip's Flashlight," by Corinna Marsh.

"Everyone Waits," by Mabel Watts.

Hunters are seeing these signs in the White Mountain National Forest this fall. Both the U. S. Forest Service and the Maine Fish and Game Dept. are anxious to learn the trend in the deer harvest in the national forest area. The information will be useful in evaluating management practices being developed and established for the benefit of deer. Co-operating in gathering the information are game inspection stations in Gilead, West Bethel, Bethel, North Waterford, North Lovell and North Fryeburg. Hunters are being asked to notify the stations if their deer is shot on land of the White Mountain National Forest. Tacking up
